Infrastructure

The Dragon2000 Sage Integration module has been designed in response to dealers who already enjoy the ease of use of the Dragon2000 and Sage Line 50 packages, and would otherwise need to duplicate all transactions to keep both packages up to date. Once set up, operators can continue to use the Dragon2000 package as they always had.

User Interface

The interface in the Dragon2000 package is extremely clear, so the operator who performs the 'Sage Update' requires absolutely no accounting knowledge.

Support

Telephone and email support is available for as little as £34.95 per month. It is recommended that new users subscribe to our support scheme when first using the Sage Integration Module.
